DRY POWDER PRODUCTION PROCESS

optimizing such a procedure for customer-owned formulations.

protocol (master batch record),

specific container fillings, MSDS,

certificate templates etc.

Final document Sourcing raw materials Post blend Pre blend Release testing release and shipping Selection according to internal The entire formulation is During and after the grinding The standard release The final document release standard specifications or process, additional mixing takes measurements can be found pre-mixed. Depending on the includes the batch specific customer-specific requirements. place to achieve a homogeneous concentration ratio in the on our webpage and can be CoC or CoA, established A high standard of raw materials raw material distribution in the final formulation, individual specifically expanded. protocols, etc. for cell cultivation media is raw materials can also be prefinal powder product. maintained. ground for optimal distribution/ homogeneity. Y— Pre-production Blender discharge Container filling Weighing-in process Pin milling document preparation and labeling According to the product-The powder is initially filled in The grinding process is gentle Product-specific documents After product bulk release specific formulation within ISO bulk with additional sampling on the product and takes place include: according to the defined class 5 environment. At the for product solubilization and under temperature-controlled product specifications, specific material specification, the analytical data collection for customer's request our product and inert gas conditions. label templates, production product or customer-specific engineers can help with product release.

filling and labeling takes place.